

Picatinny

The National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA) has nearly six decades of service to the nation as an educational, scientific, engineering, non-profit society of American citizens dedicated to promoting our Nation's Defense. Accomplishment of our goals requires continuous, high quality, close working relationships among industry, academia, government, and the military services.

The NDIA firmly believes that maintaining strong technological leadership in America is essential to maintaining a strong national defense. In support of this goal, the Picatinny Chapter of the NDIA has established several Scholarship and Awards Programs that are designed to provide financial assistance based on merit to students in pursuit of high technology educational programs. This particular scholarship program is made in honor of Mr. Jim Shields who served the US Army at Picatinny Arsenal for 34 years and finished his service as 2-Star Program Executive Officer for JPEO A&A.
